FIVE SHUT-OUTS RECORDED

A Coincidence Unprecedented in the History of the National Pastime.

Four League Clubs Fail to Make a Run-New York, Chicago, Pittsburg and Philadelphia the Winners-Base-Ball Notes.

The Indianapolis players acted very much as if they were beaten before they had fairly started in yesterday's game. They seemed to think it was a hopeless case against Keefe, and acted accordingly. A little more spirit might have changed the result, for, as a matter of fact, Keefe has pitched many better games than that of yesterday. A great deal of club's poor batting was inexcusable. pitched very nearly, if not fully, as good a game as Keefe, but the New Yorks were encouraged by the very half-heartedness which their opponents displayed. Some measures should be taken by the League authorities to call down Keefe for habit of hitting batters. Yesterday he hit two of the home team, and kept the others conjumping about in order to get the way of the It may not be exactly intentional on part, but it is the next thing to it. It is pure carelessness. Occasionally he lays the batter up for a month or so. Keefe's effectiveness comes more from the fact that he is able to put the ball just where he pleases than anything else, for he has few deceptive curves. It is very singular, then, that he should hit more batters than any other pitcher, and the record will show that he does. A fine of $5 or $10 for every batter he hits would teach him some lessons in this regard.

Yesterday's game was interesting up to the seventh inning. It was, as usual, prolonged considerably by Keefe's slowness, but there was much more good fielding than in Wednes-day's contest. Seery began the game by strik-ing out on three nice balls. Denny went out from short to first, but Keefe hit Hines with a pitched ball and Glasscock forced the latter out at second. The first two New York batters were easily retired, but Ward made a base hit to right field. Shomberg was in reach of the ball, and should have stopped it, although he could hardly have saved a base hit. As it was, McGeachy ran in, thinking he might throw Ward out at first. He let the ball get away from him, and the brother-hood president reached third. Boyle purposely gave Connor his base on balls, but sent a bad throw, which get away from Myers and allowed Ward to secure the first run. The payt one was secured in the the first run. The pext one was secured in the fourth inning, when Gore, after two outs, sent a grounder over first, which yielded him two bases. He scored on George's single. Boyle had two strikes on George, but got careless and gave him an easy ball to hit. The New Yorks sent eight men to bat in the seventh inning, but only two of them scored. Foster opened the inning with a two-bagger to left. Keefe hit an easy one to Boyle, who made a wide throw to first. the ball getting away from Shomberg and allow-ing Foster to score. Shomberg made a foolish effort to catch Foster at the plate and over-threw, Keefe reaching third. This was the first wild throw Shomberg has made this season. and yet a lot of fellows among the spectators began to shout for Esterbrook. Ewing hit to Boyle, who fumbled, and Keefe scored, while Ewing reached first. Richardson's single to left and Ward's splendid bunt hit filled the bases; but Boyle got down to work, and Connor and Gore fouled out and George forced Ward at

The home team at no time threatened to make any runs. Denny begun one inning with a single, but the next two batters struck out. Denny stole second, Ewing making his only low throw in the three games, and Bassett drove a long fly to left, which Gore captured up against the fence with one hand. He could have put both upon the ball, but was too lazy to reach. The nearest Indianapolis came to scoring was in the fourth, when Bassett got a base on balls and Shomberg a single McGeachy made a fine drive to right, but the ball alighted foul, in accordance with "Mac's" usual luck, and he was afterward put out. Seery got a base on balls in the eighth and stole second and third, but there were two outs and he failed to get home. Score: INDIANAPOLIS. NEW YORK.

Suffering in West Virginia.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 13.-A special to the Intelligencer says: "The relief committee appointed at the citizens' meeting. Wednesday, met yesterday afternoon to hear the report of the sub-committees that visited the devastated districts. Terrible suffering is reported, which far exceeds all anticipations. People in the low lands are without food, clothes and homes. The committee are doing all in their power to alleviate the suffering. They think that they will not have to appeal for outside assistance, and will endeavor to confine their appeals to the citizens of the town for at least one more day. It is almost impossible to approximate the loss and the suffering, and one cannot realize the suffering until it has been revealed by personal contact. Fully one hundred and twenty five families, aggregating over five hundred people, are suffering and in need of the necessaries of life. Yesterday morning the first mail was received since Monday, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad being now open, both on the main and Parkersburg branch. Business has been entirely suspended at Clarksburg for three days, and it will be several weeks before matters will be adjusted."

Jay Gould's Health.

New York, July 13 .- The Boston Post savs: "Dr. F. L. Abbott, of Malden, in consequence of a letter received from New York a few days since, is ready to be summoned to visit Jay Gould. He told a Post reporter, yesterday, that he had some time ago treated certain relatives of Mr. Gould who were suffering from cancerous affections, and that it was through their instrumentality he had been called upon in this present instance. The letter of last week was not a definite call for his assistance, but if a second is received, Dr. Abbott will leave at once for New York." The above adds "cancer" to the list of diseases from which Mr. Gould is stated to be suffering. Mr. George Gould denies this, as he has all the other stories.

John Dutton Drinks Carbolic Acid Instead of Whisky, and Dies in Five Minutes. Special to the Indianapolis Journal

MIDDLETOWN, July 13. - John Dutton, a stonemason of this place, accidentally drank a quantity of carbolic acid this morning, and died within five minutes thereafter. He walked into a drug store, the proprietors of which were temporarily absent, and went behind the prescription case, presumably to take a drink of liquor, and by mistake drank the acid. Realizing that he had drank some powerful drug, carried the bottle into the back room, where he met one of the proprietors, and asked him what the bottle contained, and stating at the same time that he had drank of its contents. Medical aid was called at once, but before it arrived he was beyond assistance, having by this time become speechless, and died within a few minutes—not to exceed five—from the time he drank the drug. He leaves a widow and three children.

Acquitted of a Serious Charge.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal Кокомо, July 13. - The case of the State vs. Jehn C. Pickett, charged with conspiring with William and Joseph Malosh for the burning of the Dixon Block on the 18th of January, 1887, was concluded to-day, the jury finding the accused not guilty. The trial of the case has occupied the sole attention of the Circuit Court since the 27th of June, and it has been the longest and most fiercely-contested case on record in Howard county. The cause of the State was represented by Prosecuting Attorney
A. B. Kirkpstrick, J. C. Blacklidge and C. C.
Shirley. The defendant's counsel was Senator
Harness, Milton Bell, A. C. Bennett and John W. Kern. The jury after forty-four hours' deliberation, found for the defendant, and he goes henceforth acquitted. Mr. Pickett is a prominent business man with high social connections: His father, Nathan Pickett, is president of the Howard National bank, and a highly bonored citizen of this city. Bill Malosh, with whom Pickett was charged with being an associate in the crime, was convicted at a previous term and sent to the penitentiary for nine years.

Elopers Headed Off.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal RICHMOND, July 13.—There was a very worthy Indianapolis pair in the police court this morning. One was George Winfield (colored), and the other Clara Clackner (white), both former employes at the Bates House, and they were making for the other side of the Ohio line, where they thought the strong arm of the law could not be raised to deny them being made man and wife. The difference in their color was sufficient to awaken the liveliest interest in the case. When they were arrested, at an early hour this morning, as tramps who had been stealing a ride on a freight train, the girl was in a suit of her lover's clothes, while he carried hers in an oilcloth grip. She is going to be a mother, and, of course, wanted to be a wife first, even if she had to have a black husband, and they were going to Dayton to work. He was sent to jail for two weeks and she was shipped back home.

It appears that Dunkin, the detective who caused the ar-rest, has not sufficient evidence to convict, and the police discharged Starks at once.

A new water-works plant has been purchased by Columbus at a cost of $12,000. It is a compound Holly engine with a daily capacity of 3,000,000 gallons. The plant now in use has been in constant service for seventeen years. The new engine is expected to arrive next week and will be placed in position at once.

Landlord Scully Prepares to Sell His Thousands of Acres of Farming Land. SPRINGFIELD, July 13 .- It is learned that Landlord Scully is about to sell his Illinois hold ings. He owns 4,000 acres in Sangamon, 15,000 acres in Logan, and 10,000 acres in McLean and other counties, in which he has for several years past carried on the Irish rack-renting system. Last year two bills were introduced in the Legislature looking to the extirpation of Alien Scully and his system. The measures passed after a hard fight, and were at once approved by the Governor. Under the provisions of these acts alien land-owners were bound to dispose of their realty within six years, under penalty of forfeiture, unless, in the meantime, they became citizens of the United States. Scully's American representative is now prepar ing to sell all the land owned by him in Illinois It comprises some of the richest farming land in the State. Scully also owns enormous tracts of land in Nebraska and Kansas, where the same system of rack-renting is pursued.

Miss Emma Bond, the girl made famous by the Christian county outrage of 1882, is in Decatur on a visit to friends. She is a picture of health and weighs 165 pounds. The story sent out from Taylorville last fall that she had gone to Nebraska to marry a ranchman was false. She is still single.

Rouses Enthusiasm.

Nebraska State Journal. Senator Hoar is something of an old Roman himself when he is aroused. His contrast between the administration of Grant and Grover Cleveland, drawn in his argument against the ratification of the fishery treaty on Tuesday, is a campaign note of no uncertain sound. It does an American good down to the soles of his boots to listen to an occasional manly sentence in honor of the old flag and in defense of national rights, in these degenerate days, when our government is afraid to assert its dignity in the presence of any nation stronger in navies and armies than Mexico or Japan.

Quay's Leadership.

Philadelphia Times (Dem.) The Demograts may as well understand that they have a shrewd, able, active and untiring leader to confront, who will bear watching at every debatable point. He will be ready to change the issue half a dozen times during the campaign if occasion demands and all the time he will be getting in his work. He may not succeed in electing Harrison, but at all events he will not allow the Democrate to have a walkover, and if any such idea as this prevails around the Hoffman House it had better be dispelled at once.

NO USE FOR THE THIRD PARTY.

John Hogarth Lozier.

To the Editor of the State Register.

a Prohibitionist. I suspect I was one before you were born. No saloon-keeper where I have lived for the last thirty years has doubted it. No enemy of the saloon who lived in my community ever questioned it. I have run the whole gauntlet of stones, knives pistols, and threatened hangings, drownings and burnings, with the usual "tar, feathers and rail" accompaniments. For six years I fought with the "beasts" of that modern "Ephesus" where Haddock fell. I was so "orthodox" a Prohibition-ist that the first "third party" convention that ever met in Iowa made me its candidate for Governor-in my absence and without my knowledge-and I didn't back down.

from the race. That third party kept up its fight until the Republican party agreed to submit a prohibitory amendment to a vote of the people of lowa. This hand wrote the resolution that went into the platform, and when that resolution carried, I nominated Sherman for Governor in the convention, and immediately proclaimed to the Prohibitionists of Iowa that the time had come for every temperance man to raily to the support of the Republican partyboth on account of its attitude on the question of temperance and also because of the fact that the saloonists all over the State were repudiating the party for giving us a chance to vote upon the saloon question. The result was an overwhelming majority for prohibition, followed by the enactment of the best, and, in the main, the best enforced prohibitory law on this planet; and to-day the Republican party is the prohibition party in Iowa. Instead of Prohibitionists of Iowa now stultifying themselves, by going back upon the party that has done so much for our cause, we are hoping and believing that the "sober second thought" of our brethren in other States will lead them to do as we have done. We did not "fight" the Republican party as these modern third-party champions are doing. We pressed the claims of our homes and our hearts upon the politicians and fought only the saloon. So that, when we were able to command the attention of the party, it had not been made our enemy by our abuse and villification. Not so these modern third-party evangelists. Their chief "organ," having a copperhead editor of "confederate" proclivities, spews out more venomous screed against the Republican party than it has shown toward the saloons and the devil and the Democratic party altogether! That which makes copperheads and traitors hate the Republican party should and will make loyal and true citizens ponder well before casting a vote where it will inevitably strengthen and perpetuate the power of the party that is the ally both of the rebel and the saloon-keeper. Furthermore, I may as well say right here that when the third-party convention nominated ex-Rebel General Brooks for Vicepresident it "reckoned without its host," or. rather, it reckoned itself out of a "host" of votes that it otherwise might have secured. Men may prate as they like about "reviving old ani-mosities" and about "forgiveness," and all that. I can and will forgive any ex-rebel who repents me to vote for him for an

that no ex-traitor ought ever be nominated to fill. Every man in the robel army who had sense enough to be a general ought to have been "fixed" so that neither the unrepentant rebels of the South or the short-sighted Pro-hibitionists of the North would have a chance to vote for them. They should have been dis-franchised and some of their "shining lights" hung, before the third party was hatched. An-other thing: The Democratic party are already laying plans and raising money to help "boom" the third party Prohibition ticket in all the doubtful States. This suggestive fact has leaked out from their highest councils. The saloons and whisky rings will "come down" handsomely to aid this boom; because if it is only big enoug the Democratic party with its saloons and bo lums will rule the country four years long When the devil wants a thing right bad I don't "Why don't you join the third party! I thought want it at all. When he begins to encourage you were a Prohibitionist?" exclaimed a zealous and co-operate in any measure however sacred, young brother to me the other day. Let me want to forecast a little; answer my ardent young friend, and all others like him. Like yourself, I have supposed I was otherwise "the very elect" may come his tool for scuttling the only ark of safety for loyalty, virtue and human advancement that can possibly reach the harbor of success. Harrison and Morton are men whose names, whose political and private characters, and whose unpopularity with the saloon element all conspire to afford to thoughtful men the surest guarantee of the safety of the cause of temperance in their hands. "The Boutelle resolution" commits the Republican party to active hostility to the saloon curse. The organs of the whisky rings so interpret it, and are rallying their cohorts against that party. This is our day of great opportunity. Let Prohibitionists of other States be as wise in their generation as the Prohibitionists of Iowa, and the record of the Republican party of lows will speedily become the record of that party throughout the Nation. But if the third party should again defeat the Republicans and continue the dominion of Democracy, treason and hoodlumism, let me say to mad leaders of that moveas Mordecai said to Esther. "Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape." Think not to make vourself other than the laughing stock of those triumphing hoodlums. Think not-as some party wreckers so fondly hope-that the Republican party will then fall to pieces, and that its merabers will gravitate naturally to those who are now abusing them like pickpockets. Think not that the Republican party, whose history is the bistory of the Nation's wisest statesmen, truest patriots, saintliest martyrs, and most illustrious warriors-the party of the Union soldier and of the ever multiplying generations of sone whose glory is that their veins are enriched with the blood of the Union soldier-the party of the freedman and of the protected American labor -think not that that party is thus to die. It is vital with too many hallowed memories and sacred associations to perish thus. She will ive when we are all gone to dust. Let us wisely help to make her the emancipator of the slaves of rum as she has been of the slaves of the descendants of the old English cavallers. JOHN HOGARTH LOZIER

MOUNT VERNON, In., July 7.

The Indiana Battle Field.

Baltimore Herald. There is no doubt that Indiana is to furnish the most exciting battle ground of the present campaign. The Democratic leaders fully realize that their last hope of success will be dissipated if they do not carry the State, and the Republican leaders are equally alive to the necessity of carrying it for their party. As a consequence, it may be confidently anticipated that the fight in Indiana is to be gigantic and desperate, and that the resources of both parties are to be absolutely exhausted in the effort to win at the polls. The bushes will be beaten in every county to bring out the indifferent voters; the blind, the lame and the halt will be hauled from their homes; not a single, solitary vote will be overlooked or lost, and the campaign funds will be generally distributed in all parts of the State where money will do the most good. It is probable that no Indians campaign of the past will compare to that of 1888 in point of individual enthusiasm, party fervor and the lavish outlay
